

Rome's Enemies (2): Gallic and British Celts

Written by Peter Wilcox

Published by kctv7

Table of Contents

Rome's Enemies (2) Pdf	1
Rome 2 Enemy Ships Not Landing	2
Rome 2 Enemy Won't Attack	3
Rome 2 Enemy At The Gates	4
Rome 2 Enemy Not Attacking	5
Rome 2 Enemy Agents	6
Rome 2 Enemy Ammunition	7
Rome 2 Enemy Flags Small	8

Rome's Enemies (2): Gallic and British Celts

By Peter Wilcox

Rome's Enemies (2) Pdf

In 390 BC, a Gallic army marched on Rome. A confident Roman army of about 15,000 men that was sent to bar the way, was destroyed. Three days after the Battle of Allia, the Gauls entered Rome, much of which they burned, and demanded a huge bounty of gold to leave the city. During the weighing procedure, Brennus, the Gallic leader, is said to have thrown his sword on to the scales with the words 'Vae victis' - 'Woe to the defeated'. A sentiment the Gauls were soon to experience first hand. This fascinating work by Peter Wilcox explores the history, dress and equipment of Rome's Celtic enemies.

good to know the Celtic culture.

Rome 2 Enemy Ships Not Landing

Rome 2 Enemy Won't Attack

Rome 2 Enemy At The Gates

Rome 2 Enemy Not Attacking

Rome 2 Enemy Agents

Rome 2 Enemy Ammunition

Rome 2 Enemy Flags Small